

WISCONSIN CULINARIAN

Chefs' and Cooks' Culinary Club, Inc.

A moment to reminisce about the activates we enjoyed in the past year.

A fine productive year of educational features presented at our meeting nights by our Associate Members. This experience we will remember with the prominent speakers and their update business ethics which each one of us can apply in our daily work.

Looking forward to summer with plenty of sunshine and fresh air to stimulate the body and mind. We are blessed with four wonderful seasons in our state of Wisconsin. The good fellowship and cooperation in the C.C.C.C. is growing each year to a better understanding and sharing in the culinary profession.

The results of the nomination for the Chef of the Year is our Chef and Catering personality Jack Fischer, who received the highest votes out of five selections.

The retired Chefs are the two highest in votes out of four and they are Herman Leis and Walter Thekan. Congratulations a~ good health, we'll see you at our Annual Dinner celebration.

Joining the Club; Gordon C. Forbes, Milwaukee Catholic Home, Tracy S. Burhop, Executive Chef, Ville du Park Country Club, Associate member Mr. Peter Machi, Fruits and Vegetables, New Berlin.

Our member Chef Atkins has accepted the executive position at the prestigious 'Le Bon Appetite' in Appleton Wisconsin. He is seeking an assistant in his fine gourmet dinning establishment.
